
Company - Unternehmen

Synopsis

In this module, the user can edit the base data and alter global settings for the company account. The base data includes the address as well as contact information. In addition, the company can also enter a so called prequalification number ("Präqualifizierungsnummer"), if applicable. Companies can receive a certificate of prequalification (incl. the PQ number) if proficiency in a certain field of work is asserted by an independent institution. The names of the institutions are given in the "Vergabemarktplatz." Furthermore, a company can identify CPV-code categories to show which goods and services are part of the companies' portfolio.

Please note that all these actions are only possible for users with administrative rights ("Benutzer mit Administratorrechten").

Explanation

By using this setting you agree to receive notifications when someone requests to get an user account in your company account.

When a new user enters his company data in the registration process we check if they are equal to your company data (e.g. same basis data, address etc.). If these data fit to your company account we will catch the users attention about this fact. If you have activated this setting the user can send an e-mail request to you to get access to your company account.

If this option is chosen, the administrator of a company will be informed if another user tries to register a company with the name. The user trying to initiate the double registration will be informed about this and the administrator can then choose to add this user to the existing company account. To finalize this step the chosen categories have to be saved (see next step).
